Collaborative Divorce Coaching: From Nuts and Bolts to Artistry

An Advanced Two-Day Training for Collaboratively-Trained Mental Health Professionals

September 8th and 9th, 2017
Washington, D.C.

Presented by:

Lisa Herrick, PhD, Kate Scharff, MSW and Linda Solomon, LMFT

This seminar is designed for Collaboratively-trained mental health professionals who want to deepen their understanding of the Collaborative coaching role, enhance their skill in multidisciplinary teamwork, and expand their repertoire of Collaborative techniques. Using a combination of lecture, demonstration, facilitated role-plays, and large and small group discussion, we will explore such topics as:

- Understanding and navigating the complex paradigm shift from therapist to Collaborative divorce coach
- Recognizing the often fine distinctions between therapist and Collaborative coach, and knowing how to recover when lines are blurred
- How to apply our psychological understanding in this new modality
- How to share our professional perspectives with non-mental health colleagues using tact, timing, and easy-to-understand language
- How to expand our toolbox of techniques for effective coaching work
- Understanding and working in both the one- and two coach models
